The International
Test and Evaluation
Association

Purpose

The International Test and Evaluation Association (ITEA), incorporated in the District of Columbia in 1980, is a not-for-profit educational organization dedicated to furthering the professional and technical interests of the test and evaluation community. ITEA is the leading association for professionals in the field of test and evaluation.

Educational Activities

ITEA engages in a variety of educational activities. The association sponsors symposia, seminars, and workshops; publishes a quarterly Journal of Test and Evaluation; and supports scholarships at several universities. In addition, chapters throughout the country provide members with diverse programs designed to expand their knowledge in the field of test and evaluation.

Code of Ethics

The ITEA Board of Directors has formally adopted a code of ethics that commits each member to uncompromising professionalism and pursuit of the highest standards of business and personal conduct.

Awards Program

ITEA maintains an annual awards program to recognize individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the field of test and evaluation. Awards are given for distinguished service; for professional achievement in test and evaluation engineering, technology, or management; for special accomplishments in test and evaluation education; and for major contributions to the body of test and evaluation literature.

Management

ITEA activities are governed by a Board of Directors selected for industry, government, and academia. Board members are elected by the membership for a period of three years. They receive no compensation for their services. A general membership meeting takes place each year in conjunction with the annual symposium.

Benefits of Membership

ITEA offers persons currently working, or planning to work, in test and evaluation in the industrial, government, or academic sectors, the opportunity to exchange ideas with professionals having similar interests.

An ITEA membership is an excellent way to:

- Acquire a broader knowledge of test and evaluation;
- Keep abreast of technology developments;
- Maintain an awareness of emerging trends; and
- Expand professional contacts.

As a not-for-profit association, ITEA is funded by revenue from educational workshops and symposia, advertising, and individual and corporate membership dues. Individual membership includes a one-year subscription to The ITEA Journal of Test and Evaluation and reduced fees at ITEA-sponsored workshops and symposia.

Corporate membership entitles a company to three individual memberships and discounted rates of ITEA Journal advertising and symposia/workshop exhibits. Each issue of the ITEA Journal features a corporate news section to publicize corporate member activities. A directory of corporate members and their capabilities is published annually.

Membership Fees

Annual membership fees are $50 for individuals and $25 for full-time students. Corporate membership fees are $800 annually. Corporate membership application forms are available from the ITEA office on request.
